EASLEY APPOINTS BEDSAUL TO HEARING AID DEALERS AND FITTERS

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley has appointed Dr. Trina Renee Bedsaul of Clemmons to the North Carolina Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Licensing Board.

Bedsaul is an audiologist and owner of Central Carolina Audiological Associates in Winston-Salem and an audiologist at Beltone Hearing Care Centers. She also facilitates the N.C. Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board exam preparation workshop. Bedsaul received her bachelor's and master's degrees from East Carolina University and her doctorate in audiology from the University of Florida at Gainesville.

The Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board protects the hearing-impaired public of North Carolina by implementing a pre-qualifying examination for registered apprentices. There are seven members on the board, each serving a 3-year term. The governor appoints all members.
